MIKE TO STICK AROUND

"Irish" Mike Donahue has evidently won a home in Auburn for as long as he might care to hang his hat up here. The big-time coach recently affixed his signature to a contract which calls for his services at this institution for the next five years. Donahue's main forte is football, and so great has been his success since coming to Auburn, that he is now recognized as one of the best coaches in the business. Mike is a modest sort of fellow, but as crafty as they make them. He studies other teams and can see their weakness probably better than any other man in Southern football today. We hope that Mike stays here forever, for as long as he is on the job Auburn fans count on the Orange and Blue putting out the best football team."

Many papers carried flattering notices of Coach Donahue's work, noticeable among them were the Memphis Commercial Appeal, the New Orleans Item and the Birmingham News.

CLASS FOOTBALL

Every afternoon Drake Field and the campus are alive with football candidates trying out for positions on their respective class teams. With the elimination of the best "scrubs" who made the trip to the Vanderbilt game the teams are more evenly matched than ever before and the predictions are that the games will be more hotly contested than previously. The first game will be between the Seniors and the Freshmen and it will probably come off shortly after mid-term examinations.

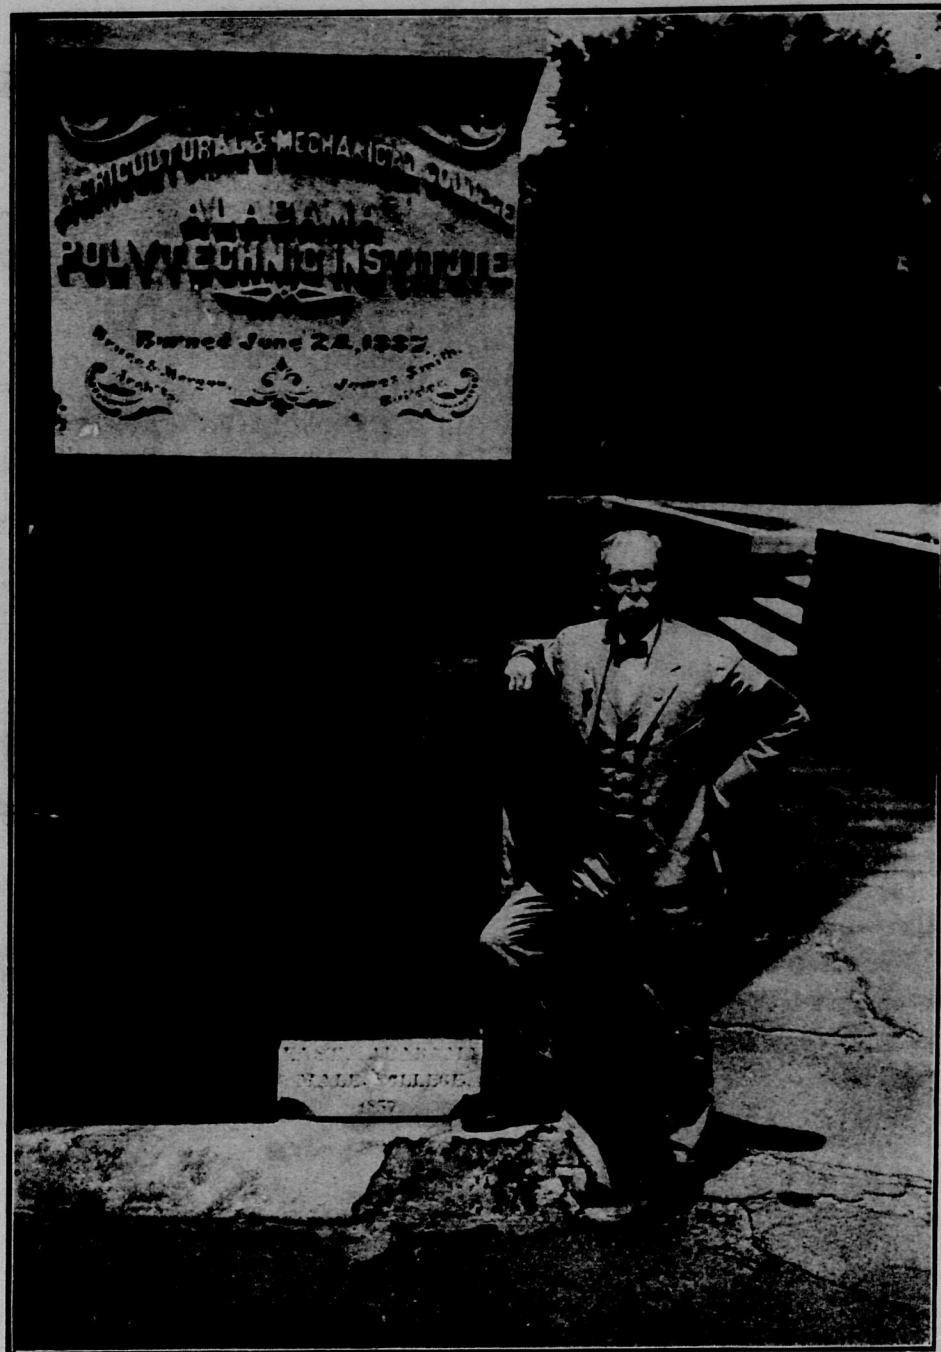

Under the guidance of "Red" Harris and "Caruso" Bidez the Seniors except to cop the honors, as this is their last chance and they have not yet succeeded in accomplishing this feat. With such men as Howle, Howe, Pearce, Harrison, Nixon, Lambert, Campbell, Parrish, Kohlers, Gibson, Gissendanner, Starkey, Rhinehart and Seibold they will make the fur fly when they meet the rats. Thigpen has been elected manager of the team.

"Bill" Louisell has been selected coach of the Juniors and everyone knows Bill's football knowledge and ability. It is believed that he has a likely bunch in the class of '16, and one that will give the Sophs a run for their money. Among those trying out for the team are Witham, Jones, Murphy, Wagner, Smith, Hudson, Hickey, Dowdell, McCormick, Roberts, Adams and others.

"Boozer" Pitts is the pilot of the boastful Sophomores and it is rumored that they have a strong claim for the championship. "Coach" Pitts has a husky bunch from which to pick a team and he is likely to develop a strong combination. The Sophs place their hopes in Samford, Blanchard, Robinson, J., Stickney, Collins, Stratford, McLain, Shotts, Burgess, Chapman, Heigler, Sharit, Ammen, Deal and others of ability.

Captain B. D. Lumsden, '60, Auburn's oldest Alumnus died on January 7, 1915. He was a member of the first graduating class of the old College. Prior to his death he lived on his plantation near Macon, Ga.

NEW TRUSTEES APPOINTED

Shortly before his retirement from office Governor O'Neal appointed T. D. Samford, '88, of Montgomery, Ala., and Charles McDowell, of Eufaula, Ala., to become members of the Board of Trustees of Auburn to succeed Harry L. Martin, '80, of Ozark, Ala., and Reid Barnes, of Opelika, Ala. Mr. Samford, United States District Attorney, now resides in Montgomery, because of his official duties, but his home is in Opelika. Mr. McDowell is a prominent attorney of Eufaula, and is a member of the State Normal School Board. Their names have already been sent to the Senate and it is not expected that any opposition to their confirmation will develop. These men will help considerably in Auburn's continued growth and can be of great service to Auburn and the State.

SOCCER

The second week of January saw the beginning of practice for the Auburn varsity soccer team. The team will include a number of football stars, who are adepts at the association game and will be a good drawing card for that reason if for no other. However, "Mike" Donahue has shown his ability to turn out a rattling good soccer team and for the past two seasons Auburn has only been defeated by the Championship teams of Birmingham and Atlanta. The full schedule has not been announced but it will include games with Birmingham, both in Birmingham and Auburn; with Riverside on the local

AUBURN WINS DEBATE FROM N. C.

Campbell and Wilkinson Secure Decision

With comparatively little difficulty the Auburn debating team won from the North Carolina team on Saturday night in Langdon Hall. The subject of debate being, "Resolved that the President of the United States should be elected for a term of six years instead of four, and that he should be ineligible for re-election." A feature of the contest was the enthusiasm which was shown by those who attended. In the debate North Carolina defended the affirmative side and Auburn took the negative. Both sides were accorded equal applause, and it was commonly known that North Carolina felt that she had been given a square deal, even though she was defeated.

The representatives from the old North State delivered their arguments in a true jurist's style, giving each point in a cool calculating manner, while the Auburn pair showed considerably more forcefulness and an equally well-founded argument. As Dr. Perry stated in delivering the decision they not only showed the "reasons why" but "wherein." He complimented the North Carolinians on their careful and close reading, which was evidenced strongly in their arguments and also in the manner they were prepared for rebuttals.

Campbell and Wilkinson showed up even more strongly in their rebuttal arguments than in the original argument set forth, although it was sufficiently convincing as to have played along way in their favor. Their rebuttals were snappy and full of ginger and exposed such flaws in Cloyd and Crater's lines as to seriously cripple their defense.

Spear, who was the alternate in the North Carolina team, but who didn't get an opportunity to show his debating skill captivated his audience by his ready wit. Leach who was called on as the other man on Auburn's team did himself full justice in a short impromptu speech also.

Rev. Hutchinson opened the contest by a prayer and he was followed by D. D. Gibson who introduced each of the speakers and who explained the conditions under which the debate was held. The speakers for North Carolina were Messrs. E. L. Cloyd and S. G. Crater, with Mr. Spear as an alternate, for Auburn L. A. Wilkinson and J. R. Campbell, with Mr. Leach as an alternate. The judges of the contest were: Dr. W. G. Perry, of Georgia Tech; Dr. Summey of North Carolina A. and M.; and Dr. Frederick D. Losey, of University of Alabama. The judges were not out more than three minutes before they were ready to render their decision which was given by Dr. Perry as neutral judge.

DR. LOSEY ADDRESSES CONSERVATION CLUB

Dr. Frederick D. Losey of the English department of the University of Alabama addressed the Conversation Club on Friday night in the Library. His subject was the "Modern Drama," and from its writers he chose Ibsen and illustrated his lecture by readings from "Ghosts," which he said was Ibsen's greatest tragedy.

Dr. Losey gave a most artistic interpretation to this drama and increased in a truly remarkable manner the interest in his rendition by acting the parts of the various characters.

The great Norwegian, said Dr. Losey, opened up a new field of thought and activity. Practically all the modern dramatists show the strong influences of this author, who has an instructive scent for new and telling thoughts. Shaw traces much of his work directly back to Ibsen.

In reading Ibsen's dramas, one cannot skip the stage directions, as this author, like so many of our modern writers, seems to think that mere speech from the actors is inadequate, he wants his readers to know what the characters are doing.

Ibsen's greatest fault is his lack of sufficient optimism. He points out the evil but seems to be disheartened in its correction.

MOONLIGHT.

Alone I passed along the forest path
In quiet dream,
While through the leaves, athwart
the silent earth
A gorgeous stream
Of moonlight flooded o'er, and as I drank
From this fair sea
Of mystic beauty rare my soul was filled
With purity.
O soft moonlight to whom my soul
confides,
In raptures low,
The secrets of its love, and finds a friend
To listen so,
I hope that when my corpse within the ground
Doth lie, and mine
Eternal spirit soars, thou on my Grave may'st ever shine!

MEMORIAL HELP FOR DR. HAMILL SUNDAY NIGHT

Music in Charge of Glee Club

Appropriate memorial services were held Sunday night in the Methodist Church in tribute to Auburn's much-beloved Alumnus, Dr. Howard M. Hamill. The music for the occasion was rendered by the Glee Club assisted by the college orchestra.

Many marked tributes were paid to the memory of Dr. Hamill by the speakers of the evening, all of whom had known him for many years and in numerous instances were closely connected with him.

AUBURN, ALA., FEB. 4th, 1915.

During the past month Auburn has lost her two oldest Alumni members, both of whom she was justly proud. Captain Lumsden was the oldest Alumni and Dr. Hamill was perhaps our most illustrious and loyal alumnus. In speaking of the latter at his memorial service held last Sunday night, Prof. Bragg said:

"May the students of Auburn and those who are to come here in the future study the life and character of this loyal alumnus and emulate his splendid example.

"May you, too, young men, love Auburn as he loved her and may you, like him, come back to your Alma Mater when strands of silver come to your locks and slower motion to your steps.

"Young gentlemen, if you study his life and follow in his footsteps your life, too, like his, will be a success. And what is success? I once heard it defined as follows:

"He has achieved success who has lived well and loved much, who has gained the respect of intelligent men, the trust of pure women, and the love of little children; who filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; whose life was an inspiration, his memory a benediction."

"If this is a definition of true success, and I am sure it is, then Dr. Hamill's life was a genuine success.

"He did not accumulate money. Dollars and dimes were not his goal. He did not seek political preferment, nor the applause of his fellow man, but preferred to go up and down this world scattering sunshine and rendering service in his master's name."

Attention must be called to the splendid appearance made by the Auburn Cadets in the recent Inaugural parade of Governor Henderson. Dr. Thach and many of the members of the faculty have heard high words of praise spoken for the boys who took part in this ceremonial function. Every man appeared to be doing his best and the impression that was left behind in the hearts and minds of those who witnessed our numbers can only be of the highest praise as is evidenced by the numerous messages received by Dr. Thach.

When a bit of sunshine hits ye,
After passin' of a cloud;
When a fit of laughter gits ye,
An' yer spine is feeling proud;
Don't fergit ter up an' fling it
At a soul that's feeling blue,
For the minit that ye sling it
It's a boomerang to you.

It is rather interesting to note that those men in College who were the most anxious over the fact that the Orange and Blue had not made its appearance for several weeks, were, to a large extent, the men who are not subscribers to the Orange and Blue, and the remainder of this crew are men who haven't paid their subscriptions. For their benefit we might add that since they have so suddenly developed a dormant interest in their college paper, that when they are called upon in the near future they will recall how they have missed the Orange and Blue and hand over their dollar, in so doing help towards preventing another and perhaps final slump.

Debating received an added impetus on Saturday when by the splendid work of our team, Auburn won from the North Carolina boys. However, don't let the good work stop with a single victory, but rather let this be a beginning. Let the rest of the Southern Colleges hear that we have a debating team as well as a football team.

Little Dorothy was about to kiss her little brother Julius when Julius exclaimed: "Dor'thy, you quit kissin me! You'll get microbes and I'll get your c robes."

There are men who boast of their success in being able to avoid work, but sculptors are not kept busy carving monuments to their kind.

Affections that are lost, strayed or stolen always seem to increase in value, like a cow that has been killed by a railway locomotive.—Technique.

"Off agin, home agin, sleep agin, eat agin, love agin, broke agin, back agin, work agin.—Collegian, per "Finnigan."

Men with swelled heads always have room for more brains.

Teacher: "Explain the difference between the words 'famous and notorious.'"

School boy: "I can't explain it, exactly, but I can give an instance."

Teacher: "Proceed."

School boy: "Well, if you were to pardon 1430 convicts in three years as Governor Blease, of South Carolina has done, you'd be notorious, but I don't believe any body would consider you famous."

Teacher: "No not by a ——— (Hastily) very good, very good!"

When in doubt be conventional.

EXCHANGES

Realizing the strained financial condition of the two literary societies, the trustees of the University have decided to give each of them fifty dollars. They have also agreed that, starting next year it will be incumbent upon each student of the University to pay one dollar a year to help defray the expense of the intercollegiate contests.—Gamecock.

Glee Clubs Re-organize. Regular rehearsals begun by mens' and womens' clubs. Prospects bright for two excellent concerts during the year.—Stetson Weekly Collegiate.

The University of Texas at a recent meeting of the board decided to ask the legislature for twenty new dormitories.

Tech and Agnes Scott have combined in building a Summer Home on the Y. M. C. A. conference grounds at Black Mountain, N. C.

The Board of Regents at the University of Oregon had to pass a ruling forbidding Sophs from ducking the Freshies in the troughs on the farm.

Seniors will erect an entrance to the Louisiana State University grounds consisting of four large columns, two on either side of Main Avenue to cost $750.00.—Reveille.

Class games are resumed. After rest through the Christmas holidays.—Technique.

Out of debt and a few dollars in the bank was the substance of the reports of the executive officers of L. S. U. Dramatic Club at a largely attended meeting of the club in Garig Hall Saturday.—Reveille.

The Blackfriar's will present "A Bachelor's Romance," this year. The cast is said to be an unusually well balanced one and it is predicted that the play will be an even greater success than was last year's.—Crimson and White.

WAS NOT NECESSARY.

At a certain college it was the custom to have the students write the following pledge at the bottom of their examination papers:

"I hereby certify on my honor that I have neither given nor received aid during this examination."

Soon after handing in his papers to a professor noted for his sarcasm, relates Lippincott's Magazine, a young fellow hurriedly entered the classroom and said:

"Professor, I forgot to put the pledge on my paper."

"Altogether unnecessary," replied the teacher. "I have just finished looking over your paper, and I feel sure you did not give or receive aid."

Just about three weeks from now the loud joyful noise in the social world will be pulled off. The February dances this year will be marked by excessive sport,—dress suits being decreed for Seniors—while nothing is barred for the common herd. Those unfamiliar with the proper dress are directed to Reese Dillard who will be on display at Beasley's all of the time not occupied in "dolling up."

You don't? Well, neither do we.

AGRICULTURE

W. E. AYRES, Editor.

About 25 men were present Friday night at the meeting of the Agriculture Club. The program was good and well rendered. Mask, Appleton and Harrell proposed remedies galore for the one crop system of the South, and gave statistics to show that their remedies would right the evil.

The Triangular Debate is becoming a reality. The subject and the speakers have been chosen. Hayes and Dugger will debate North Carolina's team here and will defend the affirmative side of the question. Simms and Davis will debate Georgia's team at Athens. Let every Ag. man support the men behind the guns.

The Constitution and By-laws was so amended, Friday night, that those men who attend the Club regularly will be awarded Diplomas or Certificates of Attendance.

J. T. Williamson will soon have the Bulletins of Local Fertilizer Experiments with cotton ready for distribution.

The Ag. Club library is now ready for use.

A. E. Arthur spent Saturday and Sunday at Notasulga.

Prof. Girtton spent Saturday in Montgomery and Birmingham in the interest of the College Creamery, which is just being organized. He also visited the steer feeding experiment at Allenville on Wednesday.

Canning Club Agents To Meet in Auburn

The annual meeting of the county canning club agents will be held in Auburn, Feb. 8-13 at Comer Hall. Nineteen county agents are expected to attend. Instructions in canning in tins and glass will be given by Miss Powell, of Washington, Miss Reese of Auburn, and Miss Tappan of Montevallo. Commercial packing in glass is to be stressed with the club girls this year. Besides the business conferences there will be talks on gardening and marketing and Domestic Science Demonstrations. Auburn ladies are especially invited to attend these meetings which will be held from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

campus, and a trip to Marion with the possibility that Atlanta will be included. Since the game was started here in 1912 an increased interest has been taken and a large number of candidates are reporting for daily practice.

Several members of last year's team are back, Hart, Robinson, Dugger, Howe and Harrell being among the number, and of the new men showing up well are Bonner, Mills, Shinholser, Sample, Prendergast, Davis, Davies and others.

CIVIC LEAGUE

The Auburn Civic League held a large and enthusiastic meeting at the home of the Mayor, J. W. Wright, on Tuesday night. After the regular routine business of roll call, minutes and payment of dues, reports of committees were in order. Several of the chairmen were unavoidably absent, but the reports from those present showed that foundation work was being done and results may be expected in a short time.

Mrs. Buchanan, Chairman of the Tag Day Committee reported that everything was in readiness to observe Tag Day some time in the near future.

Prof. B. B. Ross was unanimously elected Chairman of the Committee on Sanitation to take the place of Mr. L. N. Duncan, who resigned on account of lack of time to properly perform the duties of this office. This Committee has plans on foot to provide receptacles for waste papers, to elect a Sanitary Inspector and to arrange for a "clean-up day."

Prof. Walker made an informal report from the City Beautiful Committee, suggesting the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers, and offering the help of the Horticultural Department in carrying out these plans.

Rev. T. J. Hutchinson, Chairman of the Committee on Work Among Negroes reported that a series of meetings was being arranged, several for men and others for women, at which topics relating to health and sanitation were to be presented. One meeting was held on the afternoon of Sunday, the 17th, for negro women, at which about 50 were present, and much interest was manifested.

The ordinances on the town statute books were read and much surprise was expressed to find that every detail of the reforms which the League have been agitating is already provided for, with penalties ranging from fines of $25.00 for each infringement, to imprisonment for 30 days. It is hoped that the pressure of public opinion will induce the Marshal to enforce these ordinances immediately.

The Committee on Publication was instructed to have these ordinances printed in pamphlet form and see that every household received a copy of same.

It was suggested, also, that some means be found to abate the nuisance of glaring advertisements on the buildings on the main streets.

The League noted with much gratification the co-operation of several of the college fraternities, notably the Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Kappa Alpha. These premises have recently been cleaned up and are now an example of neatness to the entire town. It is hoped others will follow their example.

The next meeting of the League will be held at the home of Dr. Reid Yarbrough, on the 3rd Monday in February at 8 p. m. Everybody who is interested in the improvement of Auburn is urged to join in this movement.

ALUMNI NOTES

E. A. ALLEN, Editor.

Albert Key, of class of 1913, who was Editor-in-chief of the Orange and Blue and who now is pursuing a course in medicine at John Hopkins University has recently been made Associate Professor of Anatomy in that famous institution.

This comes as a climax to a score of honors that Mr. Key has won since entering school to read medicine. In his three years Mr. Key has taken several of the highest honors open to his class at the time. He has many friends in Auburn who are glad to learn of his last recognition.

Mr. Render Wade Dowdell, class of 1914, of LaFayette, Ala., and Miss Emmie Pearson, daughter of Mr. Thomas H. Pearson, were married at the home of the bride's sister in Demopolis, Ala., on Saturday, January the second. Mr. Dowdell is a son of Judge J. R. Dowdell, formerly of the supreme court of Alabama, and is directing the operations of a large farm near LaFayette, Ala. Miss Pearson is popularly known throughout the State as one of the most attractive debutantes of the past season.

Mr. Henry I. Brengle, '12, was married to Miss Mamie Pauline Ott, of Austin, Texas, on Thursday, December the twenty-fourth at the home of the bride. Miss Ott is one of the most popular young ladies of Austin, and Mr. Brengle is prominently connected at McDade, Texas, where the happy couple are now at home to their friends.

J. Kirk (Runt) Newell, '14, was head coach at the Riverside Military Academy during the past football season and succeeded in turning out a team which, despite the fact that it only had one veteran on the team, tied for the "prep" championship of the south. Riverside lost only two games and they were to the Clemson Freshmen and the University of North Carolina 'varsity. In the final game of the season and the game that really determined the championship they battled Gordon to a 12-12 tie. Newell is also succeeding well as instructor in History and English and will be assistant coach in basketball and baseball.

W. B. Nickerson, '12, is professor and coach in the Peacock School for boys at Atlanta, Ga. Though working with a green team he made a very enviable record.

The value of Auburn men as coaches in football was more generally recognized also because of the showing made by Springhill College of Mobile, under the direction of Dr. C. W. M. Rensijac, '12, and Dr. Jno. R. Rush, '99. Rensijac was a star fullback on the 1912 team and received much favorable mention as an all-southern man.

AUBURN LOSES TO ATLANTA A. C.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 30.—The Auburn tossers were defeated here tonight by the strong Atlanta Athletic Club five, the final count being 76 for Atlanta and 18 for the wearers of the Orange and Blue. In every department of the game the A. A. C. five was superior and outplayed the Auburnites at all times, the latter fought, however, with plenty of pep and spirit throughout the contest.

The team work of the Atlantans and their accurate passing besides the numerous field goals they shot were features of the game. The game was a clearly fought exhibition, and only 5 fouls were called on Atlanta, all of which were for holding. The Auburnites had 3 called on them for the same offense.

Clements at right forward played the best game for Auburn, shooting 4 fouls out of 5 chances. Louisell at guard and C. Forbes at center also played well. Forbes and J. Graves at forwards, Dubard at center and F. Carter at guard did the best individual work for Atlanta, in addition to their fast and accurate passing.

At the time of his death he was not only President of the International Sunday School Association but was one of the leaders of the organized Sunday School work of the world and was known and honored wherever Christians lived."
